Topic and Content Outline: <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Mimeograph>

I am proposing a website that is about the mimeograph and its various forms, and how they provided cheap copies in a variety of settings (cartooning, churches, schools, etc.) before the Photocopier revolutionized copying.

Hierarchy of Content: I intend it to be a sort of overview of what mimeography is, transition to a history of its application, and end on how the reader could produce a sort of copier at home.
